

Beaver County Teacher of the Year

The Beaver County Teacher of the Year is sponsored by the Jumet Charitable Foundation (www.jumetcharitable.org). The JCF helps students going from high school to college by providing financial assistance and mentoring during their educational careers. The JCF currently gives scholarships to four high schools in Beaver County with plans to add more schools in the future.

Eligibility:

We are looking for outstanding teachers in Kindergarten through 12th grade.

Nominees must be full-time certified teachers for the current school year.

Process:

The attached application is for the nominator to submit to the Committee. The nominator could be administrators, teachers, parents, or community members. The Teacher of the Year Committee will pick the top five nominees.

Those nominees chosen will receive an application to complete. The Committee will review those applications and pick the Beaver County Teacher of the Year in May of each year.

Award:

The Beaver County Teacher of the Year will receive Five Hundred Dollars for their classroom and Five Hundred Dollars for themselves.

Deadline:

Nominator applications must be submitted by March 15th of the current school year.
